Dedication

THE 1937 CUPOLA is dedicated in loving memory to Mrs. Somers, whose radiant spirit is reflected in all who knew her, and whose graciousness lingers in the life of the school she founded.

Foreword

THE class of the Lion is only one of many to leave Mount Vernon Seminary, but the spirit of the Lion—which is one of courage—inheres in all that touches the school. Thus, the class of 1937 recognizes in its emblem a dauntlessness that is quite its own, upheld by the fortitude which the whole school bestows.

JEAN DEAN COLE

To All M. V. S. Daughters, Greetings:

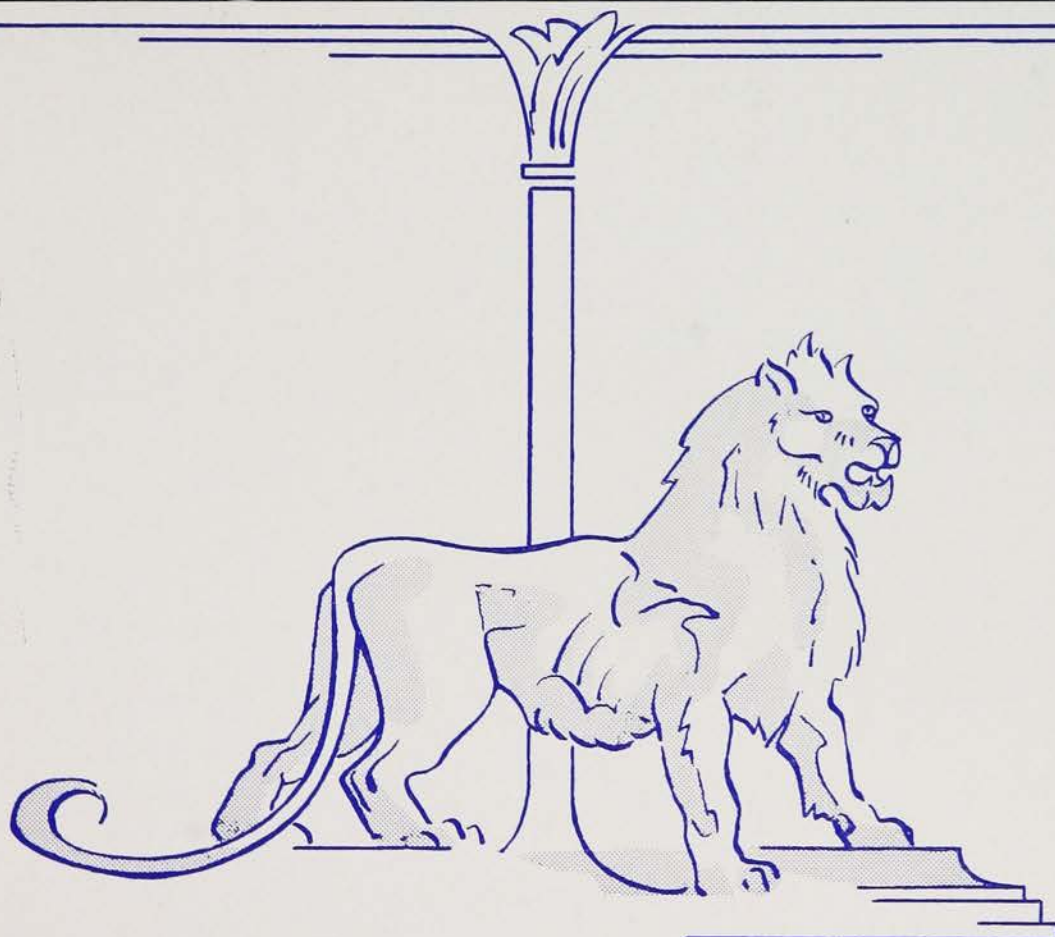

*A*S THE sun dial records only sunny hours, so, the CUPOLA. May 1937, the year of the Centenary of the birth of our Founder, yield its full quota of happy hours for each of you! Absent or present on November 5, 1937, join with us in good wishes for M. V. S.

Faithfully yours,

A cursive signature of Jean Dean Cole.

Motto—FORTES FORTUNA

Colors—LAPIS BLUE AND GOLD

CLASS SONG

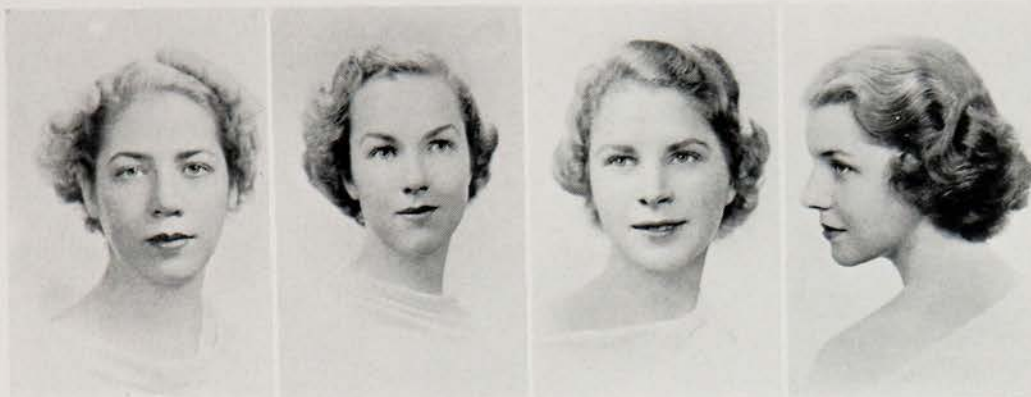

Words by HELEN TOLEN

Music by ADOLPH TOROVSKY

WE SAW a lion rampant upon a shield of blue.
Came fortitude and courage to strengthen us anew;
Our noble emblem, striding in majesty alone,
Gave us the dauntless bravery
Which we hope long to own.
This symbol will awaken the best in each girl's heart;
Ideals are all perfected when each fulfills her part.
"Fortes Fortuna" ever, our motto staunch shall be.
O, lion, sign of triumph, we show our victory!
O, class of '37, in all the future years,
Our lion-hearted spirit will conquer many fears!
We won't forget our days here, the time that flies so fast;
We'll venture forth in boldness to find success at last.
Father in Heaven,
We ask Thee
Keep us loyal and true;
To our class
To each other, to our colors—
The gold and blue.

Senior Class Poem

By KATHARINE C. NASH

*IN SKY of deepest blue, proud Leo gleamed,
When from his heart a group of meteors burst;
Each one more brilliant than the other seemed,
As they cross the sparkling heavens dispersed;
Each leaving, in its wake, a glowing trail
Of Gold. Entranced, I musingly beheld
These astral symbols of our Class unveil;
Our mighty Lion, there in space upheld,
With Leonidas, brief pausing, at his side.
Like them, we also, gathered from afar,
United pause; then, scatter far and wide.
"Fortes Fortuna," as our guiding star,
Let us with lion's courage, strength and power
Press on with faith to Life's triumphant hour.*

OUR emblem stands for strength and unity,
The eagle is a promise of success.
We staunchly face the world,
Our turquoise flag unfurled,
Always true to M. V. S.

Upward, upward, our eagle now we hail,
Onward, onward, our school we will not fail.

Dear school, in loyalty
We pledge our faith to thee,
And our hearts' service dedicate.
Classmates, we give our hand,
United now we stand.
Keep faith, O Class of Thirty-eight!

THE CLASS SONG

WHITE Class, we'll sing to you
With voices proud and true,
Loyalty as firm as the skies,
And love that never dies—
M. V. S., the White Class,
When the days have passed
And we are no longer with you.

It's then we must prove
That we are true;
Dear Class, just to you.
Would that we could sing,
And also tell thee in each line,
How out of joy and grief and hate
We gave our love for thine.

SENIOR SNAPSHOTS

The Last Will and Testament of the Class of '37

WE, THE CLASS OF '37, being of stable mind and benevolent spirit do hereby bequeath these tokens of our affection to the following:

- ITEM 1. To Miss Cole, we give our sincerest wishes for her more frequent presence at M. V. S. in the coming year.
- ITEM 2. To Mr. Lloyd, we leave a town crier to announce his triumphal marches in the cause of neatness.
- ITEM 3. To Mrs. Lloyd, we bequeath a coat of many colors to keep the big bad Seniors guessing.
- ITEM 4. To Miss Jean, we do lovingly donate a trailer to run the girls to and from the Shelter.
- ITEM 5. To Miss Spaulding, we leave new expressions for rainy-day faces.
- ITEM 6. Lily Fleming leaves her optimism to "Laney" House.
- ITEM 7. Betty Waddingham wills her power of avoiding double-trouble to Ann Krause.
- ITEM 8. To Betsy Morgan, Laura May Ripley bequeaths her oratorical ability.
- ITEM 9. Martha Fowler leaves her Southern drawl to "Marney" Gerich.
- ITEM 10. For Peacock Alley we do desperately erect sound-proof walls.
- ITEM 11. To "Dizzy" Dean and "Gertie" Smith we present a portable delicatessen equipped with a cash register.
- ITEM 12. Phyllis Lishon leaves her gift of "gab" to Janet Howe.
- ITEM 13. Nancy Andrews bequeaths her art of "being seen and not heard" to "Pig" Truitt.
- ITEM 14. Upon Marjorie Tonner, "Trudy" Dickey bestows her executive ability.
- ITEM 15. "Ginny" Davis entrusts her commanding presence to "Jackie" Miller.

- ITEM 16. To Gene Baker, Domini Dunn donates her tact.
- ITEM 17. We leave a Ouija board to "Sunny" Conlin to solve her many problems.
- ITEM 18. "Marty" Lane bequeaths her dual personality to Joyce Bonner.
- ITEM 19. To Louis Gardiner, "Elly" Ingraham surrenders her breadth of experience.
- ITEM 20. Annette Cross leaves to "Patty" Bacon her savoir faire.
- ITEM 21. To "Edie" Henderson, Lois Holmes donates her naturalness.
- ITEM 22. Nancy Hagny leaves her friendliness to Marjorie Blake.
- ITEM 23. Helen Buchsbaum bequeaths her versatility to "Mimi" Singer.
- ITEM 24. Her debating ability Louise Levis leaves to Janet Wyer.
- ITEM 25. To "Katie" Forargue, Jean Hatheway wills her athletic prowess.
- ITEM 26. Libby Cox leaves her cuteness to "Bim" Tapping.
- ITEM 27. Caroline Brine entrusts her thoughtfulness to Edith Pearson.
- ITEM 28. Her musical talent, Katharine Nash leaves to Frances Arnold.
- ITEM 29. Marianna Adair leaves her "way-with-the-faculty," to "Peggy" Page.

Knowing full well that our days at M. V. S. are numbered, we, the Senior Class, do herewith proclaim the above as our last will and testament, and in the witness thereof we set our hand and seal, this first day of April, nineteen hundred and thirty-seven.

Class Prophecy

THE PENDULUM of time swings from 1937 to 1945. Leo, the protecting lion, thinking of his days at M. V. S., turns his thoughts to the class of '37. Let us listen to his roars.

I wonder how "Marty" Lane is getting along with her farm for old horses. Her essay on Elizabethan Lyrics was so inspiring that she is having it published for Miss DeLano.

Ingenious "Buxie" is now assisting Irving Berlin with his songs for the new movie "The Eternal Triangle." It is due to her fighting spirit that she has achieved her fame.

"Phil's" originality is still her stock in trade. She is editor of "Say What You Think." She still spends a great deal of her time taking jaunts to New Haven, Connecticut. I wonder if she is any more sure of herself than during her M. V. S. days.

Miss Mack's untiring interest in Ellie has made her one of the leading actresses at the Hartford Theatre. However she still has a longing to go back to Italy.

"Kay" Nash recently had the honor of playing before the English Court. M. V. S. is proud of its child prodigy.

Hattie Carnegie has taken second place in the new company, Levis and Carnegie. Vogue is showing a number of Louise's models for the coming season.

Lily is still the social lioness of Chicago. She can't decide to whom of her admirers to say "yes".

Jean is now coaching the All-American Hockey Team for the Olympics. Greenwich realizes her beauty and has chosen her Connecticut's most beautiful woman.

By the last income tax report Caroline Brine is the highest paid woman executive in the United States.

Miss Laura May Ripley has been awarded a medal by the Red Cross for her able management in flood relief. She has been traveling through different states speaking on "Lending a Helping Hand to the Needy."

Dr. Fowler has been side-tracked from her original vocation. Her maternal instincts have led her to open an orphanage in Knoxville.

Bette's twins, George and Alex, are certainly her chief problem. They carry on such keen rivalry that she has been unable to demonstrate to her husband her cooking abilities.

Lois has at last proved herself a capable zoologist. She has finally overcome her fear of dissecting animals, and is now teaching her children that it doesn't pay to be afraid.

While Nancy Andrews' husband takes care of the chubby-cheeked child, nicknamed Mr. Milquetoast after her recently mourned Afghan hound, she is attending classes held by Mr. Lloyd on "How to Scramble Eggs."

Nancy Hagny's silvery voice developed miraculously overnight. She has just made her debut at the Metropolitan Opera House in "Les Miracles Ne Cessent Jamais."

Domini has made her millions, and is having the Shelter redecorated in red and silver.

Ginnie's husband has recently been promoted to major. In her spare time she trains thoroughbreds.

Libby, the belle of Cornell, is now carrying out her new housing plan for her boys there.

Trudy is traveling with Rose Laird, her lovely skin being an example of a perfect peaches-and-cream complexion.

Mrs. "McKlatch", the former Marianna Adair, spends most of her time at home trying to teach her children "The Art of Studying."

Annette, home from her tennis triumphs at Wimbledon, is returning at last to settle down with her husband.

And now, as the pendulum stops, Leo rises, and stretching himself, trots off to greet Miss Jean, who has returned from a sojourn on Miami shores. Together they will go to meet the cubs of '37, who will soon assemble for their seventh reunion at M. V. S.

The Romantic Age

ON SATURDAY night, March 13, the Yellow and White classes presented their annual play, a modern comedy, The Romantic Age, by A. A. Milne. The cast, under the able direction of Miss Edith Mack, caught the humorous atmosphere intended by the author and gave a delightful performances. It is difficult to say which roles merited the highest commendation, as even the smallest parts were played with intelligence and finish.

Alma Mater

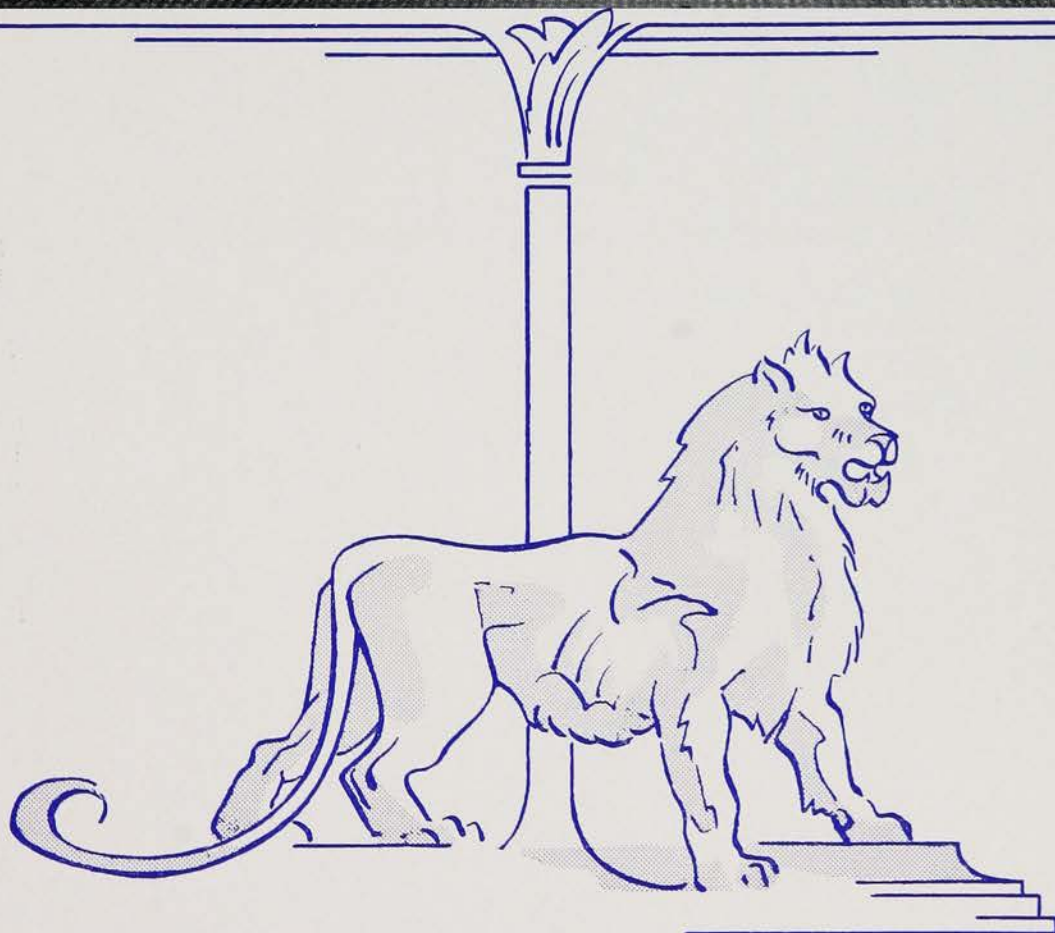

*O*UR Alma Mater Glorious
With loving hearts and proud,
We crown thee all victorious
And sing thy praise aloud.
In loyalty we serve thee
And strive to heed thy call,
Mount Vernon, O Mount Vernon!
Through self to conquer all.

*You give unfailing kindness
If trouble meets us here;
You foster all our pleasures
And make them seem more dear.
Nor time, nor care, nor sorrow
Can these fair days erase,
But they with each tomorrow
Help us new tasks to face.*

*Like breath of Spring's fresh morning
That lifts our hearts to song,
When courage droops and wavers
And paths seem gray and long.
Will come thy dauntless spirit
To help us on our way.
Mount Vernon, O Mount Vernon!
Hold fast thy tender sway.*

*The changing years may bring us
Some longed for dream of bliss,
Yet memory will cherish
A sympathy we miss.
In hours of joy or sadness
Whate'er our need may be,
Mount Vernon, O Mount Vernon!
Thy Children turn to thee.*

THE OPTIMA CLUB is the honor society of Mount Vernon Seminary. Its emblem is the Greek letter Omega, combined with the lighted torch. The Omega signifies attainment through effort, and the lighted torch, inspiration—ideals of the club. The aim of the club is to maintain and strengthen high standards of scholarship and uprightness. Members are girls who have made a certain number of academic and citizenship honor rolls, and have received the unanimous vote of the club. Honorary members consist of former members and elected members of the faculty.

EVENTS

Our Lions' Tales

1936-1937

Sept. 29—Much excitement, as the doors of M. V. S. reopen and experienced old timers take the new prospects under protective wings.

Oct. 3—An eventful day! Scavenger Hunt in the morning which called for everything from dogs to mud. Picnic lunch at the Field House, followed by a battle royal on the Hockey Field between Republicans and Democrats. The climax came in the Old Girl-New Girl Frolic; one and all received a hearty welcome.

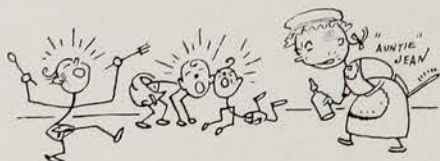

Oct. 10—Seniors put on hostess manners and drain pocketbooks to make a good impression at the Housewarming. A formal reception followed, with receiving line, music and refreshments.

Oct. 18—Juniors display unusual cleverness as well as knowledge of the political world as they present their vaudeville. Seniors quake in their boots at the thought of trying to outdo them in the coming Ingenuity Contest!

Oct. 19—Questions on rules and regulations are fired at the Juniors. Indeed a very solemn affair. Shall they get off probation yet?

Oct. 20—Suspense is over and the Juniors are welcomed into full-fledged collegiatehood at a party at the Shelter.

Oct. 31—Hallowe'en Party at the Field House. Dignified Seniors appropriately (?) dressed in Kiddie Costumes, while "Auntie" Jean, in the role of nurse, has her hands full trying to keep peace and order among the "brats." Members of the faculty prove to be the best hostesses ever, and as for putting on a show—Floradora chorus and play are fine examples of what they can do outside the class rooms.

Nov. 5—This day is always dear to the M. V. S. girl since it is the birthday of Mrs. Somers, traditionally celebrated at the Birthday Cake Ceremony. Seniors start a new custom by planting their tree on Founders' Day, rather than at Commencement.

Nov. 26—Thanksgiving! The final Yellow and White hockey game in the morning, at which both teams shine, while the poor spectators do their part in cheering and freezing their ears. Then the never-to-be-forgotten turkey dinner, followed by the annual dance. The men were slightly outnumbered but everybody had a good time.

Dec. 15—The night of the Christmas play, one of the loveliest events of the year.

Dec. 16—The Christmas dinner—more good food. The picturesque presentation of the Boar's Head, followed by the usual Christmas Carols.

Dec. 17—The long-awaited day has arrived when the holidays begin—Merry Christmas, everybody!

Jan. 5—Back at M. V. S. ready if not any too willing to work hard during the mid term.

Jan. 9—Collegiate Ingenuity Contest. The Juniors' performance was excellent, but by some hook or crook the Seniors won. Better luck next year, Juniors.

Jan. 16—The Yellow and White Classes get their first taste of what it is like to present an Ingenuity Contest. Both classes, although new at the game, did remarkably well—but the fates were on the side of the Yellows.

Jan. 23—Collegiates show off their males and "trip a light fantastic" at their first Tea Dance, held at the Field House.

Feb. 6—The long-awaited Sky Top Week-end has come; more than half of the school is off for much winter-sporting in the Poconos.

Feb. 28—The Junior College certainly was envious when the Forms had their week-end of frolic. The Prom was a big success and everyone piled into bed afterwards with aching feet but with happy hearts.

Mar. 19—The Mid-term is over. Hard to believe, but true! What with projects, exams, and essays, the time seemed to fly, didn't it? Have fun over the holidays, girls.

Mar. 30—Return to M. V. S., all ready for the "last lap," as Mr. Lloyd calls it.

Senior Housewarming

The Seniors of '37 began their year with the customary Senior Housewarming. Generously supplied with candy and nuts, each hostess received members of the faculty and the younger members of the school in her carefully-decorated room. After the seemingly endless line of visitors had gone the rounds, the whole school gathered for a reception in Great Hall, where Miss Cole and officers of the Senior Class greeted each guest.

Junior Vaudeville

"Convention Highlights of 1936" was presented by the Junior Class in the Junior Vaudeville. As a departure from the usual procedure, all parties were represented at one time. The conflict between Mr. Landon and Mr. Roosevelt was refereed by the League of Women Voters, the Socialists, and the Communists. Mr. Smith was present, as were Mrs. Roosevelt, and Peggy Ann Landon. A ballet of the Sunflowers and the Roses was a very special feature of the entertainment.

Senior Tree Planting

It is, indeed, a courageous group which will try to change tradition, and honor is due if it succeeds. The Senior Class took matters into its own hands this year and changed the date of the Planting Ceremony from the spring, to Founders' Day, the fifth of November. After the celebration of the Birthday cake, every one went to the appointed place near the Chapel, where a small pine tree lay waiting to be planted. Down the steps came the Seniors, carrying blue lanterns and solemnly singing the class song. Evening shadows had fallen, making the ceremony especially impressive.

As the group stood circled about the tree, the old spade was handed in turn to Miss Cole, to Mr. Lloyd, to the Seniors, to Lorraine Ellis, to the Junior Class President, and to Mrs. Joseph E. Davies, each of whom covered the roots with a bit of earth. Annette Cross, the Senior Class President, dedicated the tree to the school, and as the loving cup was passed, Seniors and guests joined in singing the traditional toast. Miss Cole closed the ceremony with a few appropriate words, adding the touch of completion to the new tradition.

Junior-Senior Ingenuity Contest

After the Vaudeville, in which the Juniors so ably revealed their talents, we Seniors had a few qualms about engaging them in contest, especially an Ingenuity Contest. Fear, however, made us strong, and we plunged into preparations whole-heartedly. The judges had offered us a difficult problem: Dramatization of current events and proverbs. From a King's romance to the All-American team, nothing was overlooked.

Luck was with us, or perhaps it was the fierceness of our lion-heartedness that was responsible for our triumph. The lion, who began with a purr, continued to increase his call until it became a roar.

Forms Ingenuity Contest

A new custom, that of a Forms' Ingenuity contest, had its beginning Saturday, January 16, with such success and popularity that the contest for next year is already being planned and eagerly awaited. The problems presented to the classes were the dramatization of three historical events and two of three nursery rhymes. Both classes took three of the same subjects for presentation: The assassination of Lincoln, "Simple Simon," and "Little Miss Muffet." The Yellows presented a take-off of the farewell speech of Edward, the former King of England; of "Old King Cole," and of the "Courtship of Miles Standish." The White Class gave original versions of the "Boston Tea Party," of the "Three Little Kittens," and of "Anthony and Cleopatra."

The contestants were so evenly matched that the judges had difficulty in coming to their final decision: The Whites had won a majority of ten points on ingenuity; but the Yellows had sufficient points on timing and leaving the stage as it was found, to win by one point. So ended the first ingenuity contest for the forms.
